

Runaway from the Subscriber, on the 17th Inst, at Night, a Negro Man, named Jack, about 6 Feet high, near 50 Years of Age, speak-ed bad English, and born in Martinico; had on when he was away, a blue Coat with Mohair Buttons, a black Jacket with black Glass Buttons, blue Breeches with white metal Buttons, and a red worsted Cap, but may have changed his Cloaths, as he had more at Beverly.——Whoever shall take up said Negro, and deliver him to Mr. Brown, Deputy-Sheriff, in Salem, shall have Ten Dollars Reward, and all necessary Charge paid them.

All Masters of Vessels, and others, are cautioned against carrying said Negro off, as they would avoid the Penalty of the Law.

JOSEPH HOMAN,

Marblehead, Sept. 22, 1770.