In this town, after a lingering illness, Miss Lydia Albee, aged 24.—It was peculiarly reserved for this excellent young lady to show with what firmness and composure a mind trusting in the goodness of God can relinquish all the pleasing prospects of life. Her heart was indeed most tenderly affected when she reflected how much her aged parents and near relatives would need those tender assiduities and kind offices which she had long administered with the greatest cheerfulness. It was extremely painful for her to part with a large circle of friends to whom she had endeared herself by her amiable and affectionate disposition; but she comforted herself and them with the animating hope of renewing these friendships and endearments in a better world.—Gazette.

Mrs. Priscilla Ward, relict of Samuel Ward, Esq. aged 72. The sudden death of this aged and respectable lady is a remarkable and distressing event. During the thunder storm on Sunday night, one of the peals was unusually heavy and tremendous. This so greatly alarmed Mrs. W. that she sprang from her bed, went into a convulsive fit, and expired in a few minutes.

William Thorn, aged 60, a native of England.

John Langley, aged 42, from Ireland.

* Lydia Bliss, of Marblehead, (coloured) aged 29.

Mrs. Esther Fillis, daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Clarke of Boston, aged 36. Funeral this afternoon at 4 o'clock, from her mother's house in Essex street.
